

2005 Guide of the Year!

Keith Covington

Keith started guiding in the Thorofare for John Winter in 1982 out of Cody and later from Moran when John bought the Two Ocean Pass camp. With the exception of a partial season with Yellowstone Outfitters, Keith has been with John for 23 seasons. He lived in Wyoming for 38 years with his wife, Gwen, and six children, graduated from the University of Wyoming in 1972 and spent the rest of his time working on the NRCS. Keith recently moved to Utah to be closer to family but his heart is here in Wyoming - he is "brown and gold" through and through. As Keith would say, "there is nothing like the wide open spaces of Wyoming to make one truly appreciate being alive". He has always given 110% in his guiding and truly appreciates his friendships with John and the other outfitters, guides and hunters he has been associated with over the years.
